

THE MONSTER ELIGIBLE TRAINING PROVIDER PLATFORM

Connecting job seekers to qualified training programs that prepare them for in-demand careers is an essential part of creating a strong workforce. Eligible training providers need an easy way to display the services they offer, and states and workforce development boards (WDBs) need to be able to quickly review and provide proper funding for training programs that meet their requirements.

All this and more is possible using a Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform – a portal built for job seekers, staff, and training providers that aggregates apprenticeships, certification programs, and other adult education and trade programs into a single, accessible online portal.

IMPROVING THE QUALITY OF THE WORKFORCE

Under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), states are required to provide job seekers with an Eligible Training Provider List (ETPL), an online record of certified training programs that meet state training requirements.

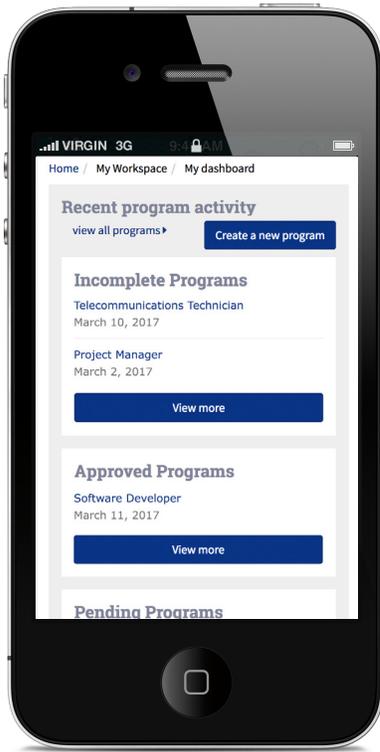

The Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform creates a comprehensive portal for job seekers, staff, and training providers to meet the goals of WIOA and the skills requirements of employers to help improve the quality of the workforce. The Platform helps states reduce skills gaps for high-demand occupations by providing training opportunities that result in credentials and career pathways for job seekers with high-demand skills.

EASY-TO-USE TOOLS FOR STAFF

The Platform provides seamless tools for state and local workforce development staff to make sure they are providing quality training programs geared toward in-demand occupations their state or region is targeting.

Job seeker view of the Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform training search screen.

Mobile view of the Monster Eligible Training Provider platform solution.

Through powerful search functionality within the Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform, state and local workforce development staff can identify and approve eligible training providers that qualify for WIOA funding to train adults, dislocated workers, and youth.

It also allows staff to monitor the performance of eligible training programs to ensure they are delivering quality coaching to their workforce.

PROVIDING A ROBUST RECORD OF TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

Training providers can easily self-register to be on the ETPL and apply for WIOA funding, which enables states to provide a comprehensive record of training opportunities for their workforce.

Both staff and training providers have a similar user interface, allowing states to easily and quickly onboard training providers to their ETPL.

HELPING JOB SEEKERS MAKE INFORMED CHOICES

Job seekers can easily navigate the Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform. They can sort by occupation, location, and cost to ensure that the program they select fulfills their training needs.

The Platform allows job seekers to compare up to four programs at a time to aid in their training selection process. This user-friendly portal ensures that states put the power back in the job seeker's hands, allowing them to make an informed choice when selecting a training program. Getting this step right ensures that the workforce includes skilled candidates that best meet the needs of employers in their area.

508 COMPLIANT AND USER-FRIENDLY

The Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform is 508 compliant and can be configured for state and local workforce boards' specific needs and reporting requirements.

The mobile-first, responsive design of the Platform, with on-the-go functionality, helps states deliver a user-friendly ETPL for all users.

OPEN APPLICATION PROGRAMMING INTERFACE

Monster provides Application Programming Interfaces for states that want to keep their ETPL on their own website but desire enhanced ETPL functionality. This allows states to leverage the robust Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform while maintaining their current websites.

The Monster Eligible Training Provider Platform is a searchable, configurable, and mobile-friendly solution, which ensures job seekers are able to find qualified training programs to help them advance or change their career.

Contact us to find out more about the solution or how Monster can promote economic and workforce development by connecting people with jobs faster.

E-mail: contactMGS@monster.com

Phone: (317) 616-5163